Fertility Research and Practice

Editor-in-Chief: E.S. Ginsburg; D.J. Schust

- ▶ The only open access journal covering all issues surrounding fertility and early pregnancy
- ▶ Internationally focused providing a global platform for dissemination of your research
- ▶ Accepts video submissions with rapid publication

As the only open access journal to exclusively publish pioneering research on fertility and early pregnancy, Fertility Research and Practice clarifies the challenging and extensive range of topics within these disciplines. With a rapid time to first decision and a global platform to disseminate contemporary research, the journal welcomes submissions on endometriosis, abnormalities of the female reproductive tract, reproductive infectious diseases, assisted reproductive techniques (ART), implantation and early pregnancy failure, pregnancy of unknown location, and sporadic and recurrent pregnancy loss, with a particular emphasis on approaches that apply cutting-edge technologies to problems in the field.

Giving authors in their area of expertise the opportunity to publish open access
