Tumor Microenvironment

Molecular Players – Part A

- Provides a comprehensive overview of the state-of-the-art research on various molecular players in the tumor microenvironment, including iron, lactic acid, galectins, and oxygen
- Illustrates in detail how cancer cells are affected by different molecules, such as Fatty acid mediators and extracellular vesicles
- Describes how molecular components of the tumor microenvironment and cancer progression are intimately linked

This book provides a comprehensive overview of the latest research on the molecular players in the tumor microenvironment, including Cathepsin D, galectins, iron, oxygen, Phospholipase D1, leptin, extracellular vesicles, and more. Taken alongside its companion volumes, these books update us on what we know about the tumor microenvironment as well as future directions. Tumor Microenvironment: Molecular Players – Part A is essential reading for advanced cell biology and cancer biology students as well as researchers seeking an update on research in the tumor microenvironment.
