Special Topics and Particular Occupations, Professions and Sectors

Series: Handbooks of Workplace Bullying, Emotional Abuse and Harassment

- Presents a one-stop complete collection discussing unique themes and specific job situations such that new realms for research and action are showcased
- Is the only work of its kind on the topic, with contributions from well-regarded international scholars and interventionists
- Is a single resource for a quickly growing and rapidly evolving substantive area
- Provides holistic coverage encompassing long-standing and emergent themes, including international perspectives

This volume embodies the twin purpose of highlighting topics beyond the purview of themes commonly associated with workplace bullying, emotional abuse and harassment and of presenting insights into those occupations, professions and sectors which either have received extensive research attention or hold a pronounced propensity to trigger workplace bullying, emotional abuse and harassment. Section 1, which comprises special topics, depicts the intersection between workplace bullying, emotional abuse and harassment and specific circumstances such as whistleblowing and customer abuse or particular attributes such as violence and ostracism. In so doing, it extends the boundaries of the substantive area, stimulating new themes for further inquiry and indicating new areas for action. Section 2 draws attention to how misbehaviour inheres in particular kinds of tasks and livelihoods due to job design, work organization and other elements such as power, external environment, employment patterns and so on. An array of occupations, professions and sectors such as academe, nursing, law, hospitality, precarious work and so on is covered, reflecting emergent developments in the labour market so as to include those with long-standing and considerable research findings and those where empirical inquiries are more recent.
