Geography : Urban Geography/Urbanism

Robinson, J., Scott, A.J., Taylor, P.J.

Working, Housing: Urbanizing

The International Year of Global Understanding - IYGU

- Released to accompany the International Year of Global Understanding (IYGU)
- Covers some of the most important questions currently being debated by urban scholars
- Written in an accessible, nontechnical style for the general reader
- Refers to concrete urban situations in both rich and poor countries

This book presents an incisive outline of the historical development and geography of cities. It focuses on three themes that constitute essential foundations for any understanding of urban form and function. These are: (a) the shifting patterns of urbanization through historical time, (b) the role of cities as centers of production and work in a globalizing world, and (c) the diverse housing and shelter needs of urban populations. The book also explores a number of critical urban problems and the political challenges that they pose. Empirical evidence from urban situations on all five continents is brought into play throughout the discussion.
