From High-Tech to Digital Entrepreneurship

Series: International Studies in Entrepreneurship

- Demonstrates the latest research on entrepreneurial learning in an innovative, digital and connected environment
- Discusses education policies which enable innovative entrepreneurship and regional development
- Offers a process framework for an “Entrepreneurship Genome”

This book analyses prevailing approaches and policies in innovative entrepreneurship. It explores the ways in which entrepreneurs learn and develop innovation-based businesses to drive increased regional competitiveness. Specifically, the contributions propose that sustainable innovation ecosystems booster innovative entrepreneurship and thus create a competitive advantage for smart and sustainable growth. It also examines the current state of entrepreneurship education, where the development of entrepreneurial abilities is considered a process of value creation—both economic and social—with the final aim to create both new start-ups and entrepreneurial mind-sets. Featuring theoretical approaches and empirical evidences, this title is appropriate for scholars, academics, students and policy makers in technology and innovation management, economics of innovation and entrepreneurship.
