Proceedings of Topical Issues in International Political Geography

Series: Springer Geography

- Covers a wide range of topics addressing key problems of modern political geography
- Includes work of the editors who are renowned experts in the field
- Considers globalization as a process from different perspectives

This proceedings book addresses the main issues of contemporary political geography and international relations, providing a platform for discussion and collaboration of experts in the fields of Political Geography, Geopolitics, International Relations, and International Law. Participants from all over the world consider the controversies and challenges posed by globalization, focusing, in particular, on the ideologies of globalization and regionalism, migration crises, prevention of ethnic conflicts, and measures to counteract racism, xenophobia, and extremism
