Doing Equity and Diversity for Success in Higher Education

Redressing Structural Inequalities in the Academy

Series: Palgrave Studies in Race, Inequality and Social Justice in Education

- Examines and deconstructs understandings of structural inequalities in Higher Education Institutions.
- Illustrates the connections between historical events and discourse and racialized acts of violence.
- Calls for a redistribution of power across intersectional and racial lines in the academy

This book provides a forensic and collective examination of pre-existing understandings of structural inequalities in Higher Education Institutions. Going beyond the current understandings of causal factors that promote inequality, the editors and contributors illuminate the dynamic interplay between historical events and discourse and more sophisticated and racialized acts of violence. In doing so, the book crystallises myriad contemporary manifestations of structural racism in higher education. Amidst an upsurge in racialized violence, civil unrest, and barriers to attainment, progression and success for students and staff of colour, doing equity and diversity for success in higher education has become both politically urgent and morally imperative. This book calls for a redistribution of power across intersectional and racial lines as a means of decentering whiteness and redressing structural inequalities in the academy. It is essential reading for scholars of sociology and education, as well as those interested in equality and social justice.
