Criminology and Criminal Justice : Critical Criminology

Carrington, K., Hogg, R., Scott, J., Sozzo, M. (Eds.)

The Palgrave Handbook of Criminology and the Global South

- Covers a huge scope of research methodologies and lines of inquiry to develop a transnational criminology inclusive of the experiences and perspectives of the Global South
- Elucidates the power relations in the hierarchal production of knowledge that privileges theories, assumptions and methods based largely on empirical specificities of the global North to de-colonise and democratise the toolbox of available criminological theory
- Contributes to the growing area of Southern Criminology with a truly international author base

The first comprehensive collection of its kind, this handbook addresses the problem of knowledge production in criminology, redressing the global imbalance with an original focus on the Global South. Issues of vital criminological research and policy significance abound in the Global South, with important implications for South/North relations as well as global security and justice. In a world of high speed communication technologies and fluid national borders, empire building has shifted from colonising territories to colonising knowledge. The authors of this volume question whose voices, experiences, and theories are reflected in the discipline, and argue that diversity of discourse is more important now than ever before. Approaching the subject from a range of historical, theoretical, and social perspectives, this collection promotes the Global South not only as a space for the production of knowledge, but crucially, as a source of innovative research and theory on crime and justice.
