Political Science and International Relations : Political Science

Telò, Mario (Ed.)

State, Globalization and Multilateralism

The challenges of institutionalizing regionalism

- Re-introduces the concept of the state and democratic legitimacy into global politics
- Introduces new aspects and interpretations of the international system and its global governance
- Brings together authors with high visibility in the international debate

This volume presents a reconsideration of the concepts of State and political power within the evolving multilateral network of cooperation and conflict. By means of an innovating research strategy, it explains state resilience within global governance while deepening the obsolescence of the traditional sovereign state concepts, including by emerging powers. Rather than considering the EU as an isolated case study, the book considers the EU as both a reference and a proactive player, which fosters a new research agenda both for comparative studies and political theory. Lastly, in view of the currently emergent, unprecedented and asymmetrical, 'multi-polar' world, it considers the need for a new research agenda on multilateralism.
