Walden, P., Trefzer, U., Sterry, W., Farzaneh, F. (Eds.)

Gene Therapy of Cancer

The book provides a comprehensive overview of the current state, and the new concepts for the future directions of modern cancer therapy. Bringing together all the relevant aspects from basic and applied science, and the clinical experiences of this new direction in medicine, it is an up-to-date summary of the activities in the field and will be the basis for evaluating future progress in this area.
