Popular Science: Popular Science in Political Science and International Relations

Carment, David, Sands, Christopher (Eds.), Carleton University, Ottawa, ON, Canada

Canada–US Relations

Sovereignty or Shared Institutions?

- Assesses the evolution and current state of Canada-US relations, which reflect a unique model of integration that is now over 70 years old
- Highlights the extent to which Canada-US integration in specific fields often blurs the line between international and domestic affairs
- Analyses the latest developments in the institutions that manage this unique relationship such as NAFTA, NORAD, and NATO

This book, the 32nd volume in the Canada Among Nations series, looks to the wide array of foreign policy challenges, choices and priorities that Canada confronts in relations with the US where the line between international and domestic affairs is increasingly blurred. In the context of the Canada-US relationship, this blurring is manifest as a cooperative effort by officials to manage aspects of the relationship in which bilateral institutional cooperation goes on largely unnoticed. Chapters in this volume focus on longstanding issues reflecting some degree of Canada-US coordination, if not integration, such as trade, the environment and energy. Other chapters focus on emerging issues such as drug policies, energy, corruption and immigration within the context of these institutional arrangements.

Order online at springer.com/booksellers
Springer Nature Customer Service Center LLC
233 Spring Street
New York, NY 10013
USA
T: +1-800-SPRINGER NATURE
(777-4643) or 212-460-1500
customerservice@springernature.com