Arab Spring

Modernity, Identity and Change

Series: Critical Political Theory and Radical Practice

- Offers an original contribution to current social, political and cultural theory on the Arab social movements
- Addresses interdisciplinary scholarship in culture, media, politics, and religious studies
- Provides carefully selected case studies: namely, Egypt, Tunis, Syria, and Yemen

This book provides systematic, integrated analyses of emergent social and cultural dynamics in the wake of the so-called Arab Spring, and looks closely at the narratives and experiences of a people as they confront crisis during a critical moment of transition. Providing an interdisciplinary approach to interconnections across regional and communal boundaries, this volume situates itself at the intersection of political science, cultural studies, media and film studies, and Middle Eastern studies, while offering some key critical revisions to dominant approaches in social and political theory. Through the unique contributions of each of its authors, this book will offer a much-needed addition to the study of Middle East politics and the Arab Spring. Moreover, although its specific focus is on the Arab context, its analysis will be of issues of significant relevance to a changing world order.
