Social Sciences : Computational Social Sciences

Agarwal, N., Dokoohaki, N., Tokdemir, S. (Eds.)

Emerging Research Challenges and Opportunities in Computational Social Network Analysis and Mining

- Illuminates several fundamental and powerful yet theoretically obscure aspects of computational social network analysis
- Serves as a comprehensive reference for anyone interested in newer ICTs, examining their role in decision and policy making, understanding the dynamics of interaction, communication, and information propagation, and researching in social networks
- Provides an extensive repository of data sets and tools that can be used by researchers leading to a perpetual and synergistic advancement of the discipline

The contributors in this book share, exchange, and develop new concepts, ideas, principles, and methodologies in order to advance and deepen our understanding of social networks in the new generation of Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) enabled by Web 2.0, also referred to as social media, to help policy-making. This interdisciplinary work provides a platform for researchers, practitioners, and graduate students from sociology, behavioral science, computer science, psychology, cultural studies, information systems, operations research and communication to share, exchange, learn, and develop new concepts, ideas, principles, and methodologies.
