Boycotts Past and Present

From the American Revolution to the Campaign to Boycott Israel

- Situates boycotts historically to show how they have changed over time, from the late eighteenth century to the present
- Explores how such boycotts have intersected with Jewish history and the history of anti-Semitism, especially in the twentieth century
- Provides genuinely interdisciplinary insights, with perspectives from legal scholars and political scientists

In this book historians and social scientists examine boycotts from the eighteenth century to the present day: employed in struggles against British rule in the American colonies, against racial discrimination in the United States during the Civil Rights movement, and Apartheid in South Africa, today it is Israel that is the focus of a campaign for Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions (BDS). Boycotts have featured in campaigns undertaken by labour, consumer and nationalist movements. Jews were the focus of some boycotts instigated by nationalist movements in Central and Eastern Europe and Jewish businesses were targeted by the National Socialist regime in Germany. In this collection, contributors explore the history of past boycott movements and examine the different narratives put forward by proponents and opponents of the current BDS movement directed against Israel: one which places the movement within a history of struggles for ‘human rights’; the other which regards BDS as the latest manifestation of an antisemitic tradition.
