International Views on Social Supply, Self-Supply and Small-Scale Drug Dealing

- New articles in social sciences
- Drug Sharing and Social Supply
- Comparative Research on Small-Scale Trade and Cannabis Cultivation in Different Countries

Based on social research conducted in different countries in Europe, the U.S. and Australia, this anthology is the first to provide detailed insights into small-scale drug distribution. A main focus is the phenomenon of 'social supply', i.e. buying illicit drugs from friends, which covers a substantial part of the retail market. For cannabis users, cultivating their own plants is another important source. This volume deals with different social aspects of these non-profit-oriented forms of drug distribution, as well as profit-oriented small-scale dealing. While the illicit drug trade is commonly referred to as a world dominated by ruthless criminals, this book draws a different picture.
