Legal Thoughts between the East and the West in the Multilevel Legal Order

A Liber Amicorum in Honour of Professor Herbert Han-Pao Ma

- Reexamines and reevaluates the role of Western legal concepts, systems and practices in Asia
- Assesses the differences and identifies the possible contributions of Eastern legal practices to the West
- Discusses Asian constitutionalism and the East-West constitutional dialogue
- Highlights Asian legal perspectives in selected fields of international law, examining how they differ from Western perspectives

This book focuses on the interaction and mutual influences between the East and the West in terms of their legal systems and practices. In this regard, it highlights Professor Herbert H.P. Ma's achievements and his efforts to bring Eastern and Western legal concepts and systems closer together. The book shows that, while there have been convergences between different legal regimes in many fields of law, diverse legal practices and approaches rooted in differing cultural, social, political and philosophical backgrounds do remain, and that these differences are not necessarily negative elements in the contemporary legal order. By examining different levels of the legal order, including domestic, regional and multilateral, it goes on to argue that identifying these diversities and addressing the interactions and mutual influences between different regimes is a worthwhile undertaking, not only in terms of mutual enrichment, but also with regard to intensifying the degree of desirable coordination between different legal systems.
