Governance for Urban Services

Access, Participation, Accountability, and Transparency

Series: Advances in 21st Century Human Settlements

- Examines three vital issues in promoting inclusive urban development and the implementation of the New Urban Agenda
- Discusses innovations and best practices to improve the living conditions of low-income groups in slums and squatter settlements
- Useful for scholars, students and practitioners of urban governance, service delivery and access in cities, decentralization and international development

This book examines three vital issues in urbanization and democratization: the institutional structures and processes of urban local governance to improve access to urban services; their outcomes in relation to low-income groups' access to services, citizen participation in local governance, accountability of local leaders and officials, and transparency in local governance; and the factors that influence access to urban services, especially for the poor and marginalized groups. Further, it describes decentralization policies, views of the residents of slums on the effectiveness of government programs, and innovations in inclusive local governance and access to urban services.
